AT FIRST EYESIGHT, ....

Today, optician is a word to disappear. Nevertheless, at the time of the industrialization and of «made in China», a young Belgian fascinated by the good work, decided to follow another path, that of the tradition. Optician and optometrist, Ludovic Elens went through training at The best Worker of France in Jura, having worked decade in signs attached above all to the quality.

Hardly of this experience, he returns in Belgium to put back with current tastes an ancestral know-how, it is right in the heart of Sablon (historic center of Brussels) that the craftsman decided to install his shop and his workshop. Lover of noble materials, Ludovic Elens chooses only the best as the glasses of his collection, as the cellulose acetate or the horn of buffalo coming from India, from Madagascar or from Vietnam.

His collection « ready - to - wear » include the « main things of the spectacle trade », timeless classics in the elegant frames, for the sun or for the sight. Holder of a unique know-how in Belgium, he also proposes original works and to measure, to answer the desires and the morphologies of all people.
